

inspire students in the classroom, virtually

Nepris is an online community that enables industry professionals to inspire students through skills-based volunteering, connecting them with classrooms virtually for live, interactive sessions.

As virtual volunteers, employees introduce students to their industry, company, and career with virtual tours, mock interviews, project evaluation, and career exploration, without ever leaving the office.

- Share your industry, company, careers, and skills with classrooms
- Impact hundreds of students nationwide in just 30 minutes
- Develop a pipeline of students interested in your company
- Connect employees with students in fun, interactive sessions
- Create a culture of engagement and volunteering
- Offer professional development opportunities to employees
- Boost your brand through effective STEM education outreach
